A Granite City woman was killed last night when struck by a car while crossing Cambridge avenue, and 24 persons were hurt in 44 traffic crashes reported in and near the Quad-Cities during the holiday weekend.

Today's rain caused a number of minor traffic crashes which were not logged by local police, because patrol cars were unable to get to the scenes due to high water.

Mrs. Lula Mae Sergerson, 51, of 1704 Cleveland blvd., was injured fatally at 10:15 p.m. yesterday when struck by an auto at Third street and Cambridge avenue in Madison.

Police said the woman was struck by a northbound auto driven by Raymond Warren, 28, of 1714 Delmar street, as Mrs. Sergerson was crossing from the west to the east side of Cambridge.

Mrs. Sergerson was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital and later transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital in St. Louis where she died at 1:35 a.m. today.

She suffered skull injuries and severe injuries to both legs. A coroner's inquest will be held in St. Louis.

Mrs. Sergerson was born in Alexander county, Mo., and had been a resident of the Quad-City area for 27 years. She had been employed as a nurse aide at St. Elizabeth Hospital for 15 years.

She leaves two sons, Richard E. ## GC Man, 31, is Shot in Stomach At Area Tavern

Shelby Wallace, 31, of Kirkpatrick homes, was shot in the stomach at 9 p.m. Friday while he was seated at the bar at the Horve Inn tavern, 2615 Highway 67.

He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was reported to be in fair condition. The bullet had passed through his body.

Held in custody at the Madison county jail in connection with the shooting is Len Dees, 27, of 719 Twenty-sixth place. He was to appear before a magistrate at 1 p.m. today.

Chief Assistant Deputy Sheriff Dennis Nicholas said that authorities know of no motive for the shooting. Wallace, however, has been in past difficulties and was acquitted of a murder charge by a jury in connection with the fatal shooting of Terry Thwaiter Jr., 17, son of area hoodlum Terry Thwaiter, on Oct. 1, 1947, outside the Full Moon tavern on Route 111.

Dees was in the tavern when Thwaiter's deputies arrived and was questioned but denied having any knowledge of the shooting.

Nicholas reported that after conferring with witnesses, Dees was arrested at the intersection of Cayuga street and was taken back to the tavern where he was charged. The officer said Dees was identified by a witness.

After Wallace was acquitted of the Thwaiter murder, he was sentenced to 10 months in the state prison farm at Vandalia and was fined $250 on charges of illegal possession of a hypodermic needle and syringe and for resisting arrest.

Those charges had been filed in October 1946, but Wallace jumped bonds totaling $5000 and failed to appear in court for sentencing. He was released from the prison in September 1948.

Two Drownings In Local Area On Saturday

Pontoon Beach Man Drowns in Long Lake; St. Louisian in River

Two drownings occurred Saturday in the Quad-Cities area—one in Long Lake and the other in the Mississippi River near the law water dam at Chain of Rocks bridge.

The victims are—Joseph Henry Hinnen Jr., 47, of No. 5 Kaseberg Park, whose boat capsized upon striking a log in Long Lake as he was giving five children a ride; and Fred D. Johnson, 38, St. Louis, who was wading and fishing in backwater at the low water dam site where the river is over the bank.

Hinnen, a specialty man with a St. Louis building materials firm, was credited with saving the lives of several of the youngsters who fell from his boat when it capsized. He became unconscious while being pulled to shore by Kenneth White of No. 3 Kaseberg Park, a Pontoon Beach patrolman, and father of two of the children who had been in the boat.

Artificial Respiration
White told the Press-Record that Hinnen "just collapsed, probably from over exertion and in his lungs, and we were giving him artificial respiration when the Long Lake rescue squad arrived with an inhalator."

Hinnen was dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital about 8 p.m.

White said he saw the accident and he and Mrs. Bobby Jones of No. 2 Kaseberg Park dived into the lake from the bank, while Jerry Bennett of Lakeview dived in from the west bank.

"We saw Hinnen dive for the children and take them to the overturned boat and all of us helped," White related. "We were pushing the boat with the children to the west bank and helping Hinnen, who appeared to be exhausted."

Children Thrown Out
In the mishap, all of the youngsters were at the front of the metal boat when it hit a floating log. Hinnen was at the rear and was thrown out. The boat was swamped, it overturned, throwing the youngsters and Hinnen out. Hinnen was known to be a strong swimmer.

In the boat with him were White's sons, Fred, 4, and Kenneth Jr., 8; Cindy Leibold, 3, of 4389 Highway 162, and her brother, Gerald Leibold Jr., 7, and Edwin (Spanky) Williams, 12, of No. 1 Kaseberg Park.

Hinnen, a native of Glen Carbon, lived in Madison for about 15 years, having moved to Pontoon Beach about a year ago.

Survivors include his wife, Doris, two daughters, Martha and Charles (Judith Ann) Glaser of Edwardsville and Mrs. Ronald (Jane) Jordan of Mill Creek, Ill.; three sons, Joseph Henry Hinnen III and Jody Andrew.

W. Madison Man Shot; Assailant is Sought
Madison police are searching for Richard Wilson of 213 West Second street, in connection with the shooting Thursday of Emmitt Gardner, 21, of the same address who was wounded in the stomach. Witnesses told police the shooting occurred in the apartment building after Gardner reprimanded Wilson over slapping a woman tenant.

Gardner was rushed to St. Elizabeth Hospital for emergency surgery and was reported to be in fair condition. The weapon reportedly was a .22 caliber pistol.

The witnesses told police Wilson pulled the gun on Gardner's stomach and fired and then fled from the building. He also had threatened Roy Collier, 23, of the same address, whose wife, Helen, 19, had been slapped.

Another tenant, Jo Ann Hart, 18, said Wilson had threatened her with a knife Wednesday afternoon, and that Mrs. Collier had come to her assistance and that was when Wilson slapped Mrs. Collier.

A warrant has been filed for Wilson's arrest.

Vacationing Assistant Fire Chief Charles Hileman kept in practice before returning to duty today.

Hileman was on Interstate 70 near Kansas City, Mo., when he spotted a car on fire and stopped to give assistance with the extinguisher he carries in his private auto.

"I was on my way to see the Truman Library when I saw this car that looked like a rocket. The gas line had broken and the car was ablaze underneath," Chief Hileman said. He was aided by an over-the-road bus driver who also stopped and had an extinguisher.

American Steel Develops Self Unloader for Trucks

Highway trucks will now be able to unload themselves. A new product to make this possible, the Wilson Foldfork, was unveiled today by American Steel Foundries, Chicago-based operating unit of Amsted Industries.

The Foldfork is actually a compact forklift which can be attached directly to the frame of a highway tractor. It is folded down when not in use. Arriving at his destination, the driver remains in the cab and merely by moving a few levers, uncouples the trailer, raises the built-in lift mast, and unloads his own cargo.

"The greatest benefit to the trucking industry will be time saved," stated Thomas R. Eggert, ASF's vice president of industrial products sales. "With ASF's new product, drivers can immediately unload cargo when they arrive... without waiting for a crane or other assistance."

The Wilson Foldfork can lift up to 5000 pounds to a height of 11 feet. It is intended to fit any highway, vehicle using a fifth wheel coupling and will not interfere with normal tractor-trailer operation. "The Foldfork is equally efficient whether unloading palleted or bulked construction materials," Eggert pointed out. "In addition, a driver can be

Harassment Calls Plague GC Family

How do you explain to a hauler at 6:30 a.m. that you did not arrange with him the night before to move your furniture out of the house as the walls are collapsing? Or, tell women coming to the front door to collect ironings or perform baby-sitting chores that you do your own ironing and your children are grown up and married?

Explanations such as these and more were necessary last week at a Granite City home where advertisers in the classified section of the Press-Record were directed to take their services through a series of fraudulent telephone calls.

The calls to advertisers originate in most instances, from an unknown male troublemaker, reported by several persons "as sounding fairly young and speaking with a southern accent." The man identifies himself as Bill Brewer, residing on West Pontoon road.

A William Brewer and his wife, do live at the address where advertisers were told to call in person or by telephone. However, Mr. and Mrs. Brewer are at a loss to explain or even theorize why the harassment is being directed toward them.

Similar annoyance calls were made on a single day one month ago, and were repeated last week. "The situation is very annoying and causing trouble for a lot of people," Brewer said. "I have made a mental list of everyone we know, trying to figure out who can be doing such a thing, but so far have drawn a blank."

Mrs. Brewer, who is "very upset" about the calls, became ill one night when a man purporting to sell burglar alarm systems, called and questioned her about the home's security provisions.

The harassment has been reported by several persons "as sounding fairly young and speaking with a southern accent." The man identifies himself as Bill Brewer, residing on West Pontoon road.

Two men arrived at the home one morning with pools for stud service they reported the Brewer's had called about. The couple does own a paid pool, one male and one female. That afternoon, two women arrived to collect ironings and the baby-sitting call came a short time later.

The Brewer's dilemma apparently is not unique. Mrs. Adams mentioned that on one occasion her husband was directed to a Delmar avenue address to pick up a fur coat. The woman at the address knew nothing about the call and didn't even own a fur coat, she said.

State Cigarette Tax Held Constitutional

The state of Illinois will collect $1,301,770 from seven major cigarette distributors as the result of a revenue victory in Cook county circuit court, Attorney General William J. Scott announced today.

A suit filed by W. Koennecke & Sons, Inc. and six other cigarette wholesalers challenged the validity of the Illinois Cigarette Tax Act, but Circuit Judge Thomas C. Donovan last week held the act constitutional, affirming the attorney general's arguments.

As a result, $1,301,770 now held in special escrow, or protest fund, will be earmarked for the state's general revenue pending further appeal by the distributors.

The seven cigarette firms are the Koennecke firm, Bloomington, Inc., S. Midway, Inc., A. R. Patrick Wholesale, Inc., Gershung & Epstein, Inc., Meyer Silverstein, and Zenith Tobacco Corporation.

W. Koennecke & Sons, Inc. and its president, Robert Koennecke, also are facing criminal charges brought by Scott under the Cigarette Tax Act. Both the corporation and its president are charged with selling cigarette packages which did not contain a state tax stamp. The charges are scheduled for trial in Cook county circuit court July 14.

Commends Assembly On Police Training

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott today commended Illinois legislators for supporting a new state college of Police Science, a proposal first advanced by Scott during his campaign for attorney general.

The Illinois House gave final approval on the last night of the General Assembly session to a Senate Resolution by John A. Graham which put the legislature on record supporting the concept of a College of Police Science, Law Enforcement and Corrections.

This solid state legislative backing brings Illinois one step closer to our goal of having the best trained law enforcement personnel in the country, schooled not only in the most modern police methods, but in modern psychology, human relations and preventative crime control," Scott said.

The attorney general said a master plan for the new police college now is being drawn by the attorney general's office. It is being financed by a federal grant which Scott is responsible for administering. Illinois has received $1 million in federal funds for crime control in the state.

The police college is a priority project under this program.

WALKS NUMEROUS IN FIFTH ANNUAL GAME
Madison Police & Firemen defeated Tony & Joe's Saturday in their fifth annual slow-pitch softball meeting, despite a 15-2 margin by 7 & 1's over the Police & Firemen.

According to a five-year standing rule, John Maers must pitch the entire game for the Police & Firemen and Tony Anso must pitch for Tony's. During the fifth frame, Anselm walked eight consecutive batters and was relieved of the pitching duties by Boet Gibson. Thus, T & J conceded the game. Highlight of the contest was a fly ball hit to Ed Gochan. It bounced out of his glove but was caught by John Kittel for the out.

Granite City Steel Credit Union won the 21st annual Fourth of July invitational fast-pitch softball tournament sponsored by the GC park district Thursday through Sunday.

CU won initially from Norm's, the Belleville league leaders, 7-1, and then defeated the defending tourney champs, St. Louis Merchants, 3-2 on Jerry Voloski's two-hitter.

In the Merchants' first game, the Paddler's swimming meet scheduled for Thursday at Dorchester of Belleville was cancelled due to rain. Tomorrow night the Paddler's, 21st Johnson road, will be host to the Dupo Hottoppers in a dual meet of diving and swimming beginning at 6 p.m.

Festival Show Still On-If Rain Abates

Tonight's pop performance by Joni Mitchell and Arlo Guthrie at the Mississippi River Festival is slated to go on as scheduled at 8:30 p.m., providing the torrential rains of earlier today are not repeated immediately before showtime, a spokesman for SIU-SW campus said this morning.

The Thursday concert by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, featuring violinist Itzhak Perlman, was cancelled when an early evening rain and wind storm left the festival site in sodden condition. Performances went on as scheduled Saturday and Sunday nights.

Drainage around the perimeter of the natural amphitheatre bowl on the SIU-SW campus permits adequate runoff of water, draining the area within an hour or two, the spokesman said. Festival patrons are advised to use the main parking lots near the University Center area tonight, where shuttle buses will be provided to the festival site.

Ticket holders for concerts cancelled due to rain may exchange their seats for a refund of the ticket price at the SIU-SW box office at the festival site, open from 10 a.m. through showtime on the day of a performance, or at Powell Symphony Hall in St. Louis.

64% of Refuse Comes from Missouri

(Third of a series)

There is a general relationship between the population of a given area and the quantity of refuse produced there.

This relationship is subject to wide variations, due to a number of controlling factors. But it is the principal means available to determine reasonable predictions of the quantity of refuse to be disposed of.

Among the factors are climate, relative economic levels of the residential areas, type and intensity of commercial and industrial development, and local ordinances relating to air pollution control.

When considering the production of solid wastes, it is necessary to define limits.

Total production of solid wastes would include those materials produced by the industry which are reprocessed or disposed of without ever being handled by public waste collection and disposal agencies. This element is not meaningful from the standpoint of the objectives of a refuse disposal study made by Horning & Shiffrin, consulting engineers.

The discussion of refuse production is confined to quantities of wastes anticipated to require collection and disposal on a public basis for the foreseeable future.

Waste materials recycled by an individual industry, or produced by one industry and reclaimed by another, or waste materials disposed of by industry independently of public facilities are not made a part of the discussion of per capita refuse production, since they would have no effect on the required capacities of public collection and disposal facilities.

None of the existing disposal facilities in Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties include provisions for weighing the refuse received. Disposal fees, where levied, are presently based generally on truck volume.

In some cases, the disposal fees reflect the higher refuse densities achieved in packer-type trucks. But because of the wide variations in refuse quality, with corresponding variations in refuse density, truck volume is regarded as only an approximate measure of quantity.

To provide a more accurate basis for estimating refuse quantities, a portable scale was purchased and installed at selected disposal sites in the three counties at points serving heavily developed areas.

Four sites were chosen for temporary installation of the scale—the first in south central St. Clair, the second in northwestern Madison county, the third in southwestern Madison county and the fourth in northwestern St. Clair. The first three actually were surveyed.

The four locations reflect sites, respectively, for the Belleville, Alton, Granite City and East St. Louis areas. The latter two also receive large quantities of refuse from St. Louis and St. Louis county.

Alton charges higher fees. The area served by the city of Alton landfill, as determined from the sources of refuse, is comprised essentially of Alton waste and sewerage treatment plant.

The weighing records indicated that the Chouteau Island landfill at this landfill received refuse from most all of the southwestern part of Madison county as well as from a significant portion of the southern portion of the Alton-Wood River area. The percentage of commercial and industrial refuse indicated from the truck weighings is not considered representative of the total commercial and industrial landfill.

Many industries dispose of such refuse in landfills on their own property. In at least one case, an industry utilizes a small indicator for its combustible refuse.

The short-term truck weighings provided only approximations of refuse quantity and could not provide data on seasonal variations.

7573 Tons in 3 Weeks
Refuse received at Mal to total 7573 tons, including 2759 from Illinois (1359 Alton-Wood River, 1189 Granite City area and 211 from unknown sources).

A breakdown of the Illinois refuse shows 1736 tons domestic, 36 commercial and industrial, 36 building refuse and 850 miscellaneous.

Private haulers, over whom no significant control is exercised anywhere in the three counties, are prone to utilize certain specific sites for varying reasons—lower disposal fees, shorter hauling distances, relationships with the landfill operators, proximity of the sites to their own home bases, and other reasons both economic and non-economic.

As a result, many of the haulers change their points of dumping relatively frequently. It is quite possible that certain haulers, for reasons of their own, did not wish to have their trucks weighed and temporarily changed their points of dumping until the weighings were completed.

Next Monday, July 14, "Rotary Connection" will appear at the "Y." Advance tickets are still available at the "Y" for this dance.

Autos Collide

Involved in a collision Thursday afternoon at 17th street and Madison avenue were a 1968 driven by John Fensterman of Edwardsville, and Terry Mercer, 3219 Maryville road. Police said Fensterman was going south and Mercer was traveling east and making a left turn.

To Meet Again With State on Dow Road Plan

A second meeting to consider more detailed plans for construction of a new street extending northward through Venice and Madison from the Dow Chemical Co. plant is to be held with state officials soon as a result of the success of tentative discussions in Springfield last week, according to William "Mike" Ebersold, city clerk of Venice.

Ebersold, who represented Venice Mayor John E. Lee at last week's meeting of a Venice Madison delegation with Ray C. Dickerson, director of the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development, said assurances of state financial assistance in building such a roadway were given the local area group by Dickerson, although no specific route or construction plan has yet been developed.

Meeting in Springfield with Dickerson were Mayor Stephen Maeras of Madison; Eugene Burnett, representative of Dow; Randall Robertson, Granite City attorney, and Ebersold.

Three Possible Routes

Ebersold said three potential routes for a new roadway were discussed. Possibility of an overpass in the vicinity of 12th and State streets in Madison was mentioned during the meeting, although such a project would require expenditure of well over a million dollars, Ebersold said.

The preliminary discussion was arranged several weeks ago by Mayor Lee who said a new street from the Dow plant to Weaver street as well as the use of Weaver street by heavy truck traffic. In addition, Dow employees have reported a number of incidents involving rock throwing and other interference from North Venice groups.

"We came away from the meeting enthused over our reception and the assurances given us by Mr. Dickerson," Ebersold said. He added that Dickerson told the group that the state would provide funds for a roadway plan that can be worked out on a state-city basis.

The next meeting with state officials will await the return of Mayor Lee who is out of the city on a European tour. Mayor Lee is scheduled to return July 20.

New housing led the construction field in Granite City during June as 60 building permits were issued with values totaling $250,215.

Eleven permits were for homes with values of $155,000, including nine in the Wilson Park Estates subdivision.

The activity topped the May mark of 52 permits at $241,552 but was behind June of last year when there were 61 permits with values of $332,521.

Permits for other types of construction during last month included three for commercial industrial purposes at $33,026, 34 for remodeling and repairs at $21,218, 10 for garages and carports at $9700, four for mobile homes at $23,000, two for additions to homes at $5600 and one for miscellaneous at $2581.

In addition, seven permits to raze structures at a cost of $3775 were issued. IRON BUTTERFLY, Recording Artists

Popular Iron Butterfly To Appear at Festival

The most popular new rock group in America—the Iron Butterfly—four young recording artists with a new sound, will entertain Mississippi River Festival guests Thursday at 8:30 p.m. at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

From Sunset Strip in Los Angeles—known to many hopeful and prospective new groups as the "Tin Pan Alley" of the New Generation—the four young men of Iron Butterfly were discovered by the Los Angeles "underground"—the hip, young music fans in the area always looking for new groups and original sounds.

Doug Inge, lead vocalist and leader of the group, says, "We didn't copy anyone nor were we influenced by anyone. We had an idea about a sound and how it should be expressed."

Name His Music
The sound can best be described by analyzing the name chosen by the group: iron for heavy; butterfly for light, appealing and versatile. In addition to Inge, members of the Iron Butterfly are drummer Ron Bushy; bass guitarist Lee Doran, comedian in the group; and Erik Brann, guitarist who was a concert violinist at age seven.

The Butterfly has been recording since 1967. Its first long-playing record, "Heavy," was released in January 1968, and soon became one of the top-selling albums across the country. It was this record which opened the doors for a national concert tour and established the Iron Butterfly sound.

The group's second album, "In-A-Gadda-Da-Vida," went to the top on record charts across the nation within weeks after its release. A third album, "The Iron Butterfly Ball," also has been recorded by the new "in-group."

The Iron Butterfly concert will also feature an unusual light show by Galactic Vision.

Mitchell-Guthrie Today
Tonight at 8:30, Festival patrons will hear folk singers Joni Mitchell and Arlo Guthrie.

Miss Mitchell, a talented songwriter with more than 60 songs to her credit, recently was featured on the first Johnny Cash spectacular and on the Mama Cass special.

Arlo Guthrie, son of the immortal Woodie Guthrie, liberally salts his singing program with often hilarious narratives—"talking blues."

His Alice's Restaurant with its garbage and draft-board tale and multi-colored roaches episode has become the classic heavy ballad and has been filmed by Arthur Penn and director Elkins. Penn is the director who "helped" put Bonnie and Clyde back in the spotlight. Arlo records under the Reprise label.

Reserved seating in the Festival tent ranges in price from $2.50 to $5.50 and informal lawn

Service Men's Christmas

Red Cross Chapter Begins Local 'Ditty Bag' Program

Shopping early for Christmas begins today at the Tri-City Red Cross Chapter for the fifth successive year.

"Santa's helpers" here will join with Red Cross volunteers in some 1800 communities throughout the United States in Shop Early-Vietnam 1969, the Red Cross program which annually provides a sufficient number of holiday gift-filled bags for each American serviceman and woman who is in South Vietnam during the Christmas holidays.

"Again this year the Red Cross is asking other community service organizations, religious groups, business firms and individuals to join in helping to collect the items needed and to sew the bright, colored drawing bags, fondly called "ditty bags" by the GIs."

Melvin T. Gillie, local chapter chairman said, "The Red Cross Shop Early project is just one way Americans can show that they care about our young men and women serving in South Vietnam," Gillie said.

The Tri-City chapter has been asked by the National Red Cross organization to provide as many ditty bags as possible from the local community. Last year about 30 Quad-City groups and individuals participated in the ditty bag project.

A 188,000 filled gift bag quota has been set for the Red Cross

GM&O Sued for $150,000

A suit for $150,000 was filed for Claude E. Lipe against the GM&O Railroad in Madison county circuit court at Edwardsville as the result of injuries sustained, Aug. 16, 1968. The complaint alleges that he was a member of a crew switching cars at Tammis and was hurt while alighting from a hopper car to pull a switch.

He did not realize it was Christmas, in fact even wanted to forget it was, but was very happy when the Red Cross distributed the little red and green bags "right into the combat area."

Wiezer-Barylske Nuptials At St. Margaret Mary

In a 3 o'clock ceremony taking place Saturday afternoon at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church, Miss Judith Kathleen Barylske, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Barylske, 3001 Pershing blvd., was married to Joseph Frank Wiezer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wiezer, 12 Frontenac lane.

Rev. Hugh Cassidy heard the vows of the couple before the altar decorated with arrangements of white summer flowers and greenery.

Mr. Barylske gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of white silk organza and Alencon lace fashioned with an Empire bodice, a Victorian neckline and long puffed sleeves cuffed with lace. Lace also trimmed the neck and continued down the front of the "A" line skirt.

A removable court train bordered with lace was caught high at the back with a bow. The bride's silk illusion veil was held in place with an open pillow of matching lace, and she carried a Dutch colonial bouquet of pink Sweetheart roses and white Elegance carnations.

Miss Pamela Rice, honor maid, and Miss Grace McCance, Miss Margaret Wiezer, the bridegroom's sister, and Miss Vicki Barth, a cousin of the bride, bridesmaids, were dressed alike in pink window pane sheer slips over taffeta. The scoop-necked Empire bodices had short sleeves trimmed with Venice lace. They held bouquets of white carnations and pink daisies.

The bride's mother was dressed light blue while the bridegroom's mother chose a light green dress. Both wore matching accessories and corsages of white carnations.

Mr. Wiezer had his brother, Kenneth Wiezer, as best man, and the bride's brother, Ted Barylske, Douglas Wallin and Jim Reeder as groomsmen. Bill Taylor and Norman Wilfong, the latter a brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as ushers.

The bride's parents gave a reception after the ceremony at the VFW hall and the newlyweds left later for the Lake of the Ozarks. They will live at Waco, Tex., where they will attend Baylor University. The bride is transferring there after attending the University of Illinois the past three years.

Calvo Explains Vote Against Income Tax

"There are two basic reasons why I voted against the state income tax Monday," State Representative Horace Calvo (D), local lawyer, said Saturday.

"I object strongly to simply adding another tax on top of the extremely regressive taxes which the people of my district and the rest of Illinois pay to maintain state and local government."

"The income tax is probably the most fair tax of any that can be levied; I have always maintained, however, that reform must come before any additional taxes are placed on the people," Calvo said.

"The tax as requested by Gov. Ogilvie will produce a surplus in the state treasury of at least $200 million in 1970."

"I do not believe the people should be overtaxed to further the political ambitions of one man. The state is not a business to be run at a profit. Extravagance in public office is not in the public interest."

"Taxes should never be levied to build up surpluses in government. The taxpayer should be held to be called upon to pay the actual expense of the necessary programs, such as aid to our schools and other necessities."

"Gov. Ogilvie has complained since his inauguration about the insolvency of Illinois and talked about austerity. However, we find the fact to be that on June 30, 1969, the close of the current fiscal year, that state had on hand approximately $100 million dollars. The governor has continually talked about austerity and the fact that he would manage this state as it was never managed before, but in fact he submitted the largest and fastest budget in Illinois history."

"It is time for reform and austerity. I voted against the tax because neither is in sight," Calvo said.

Green Fined $300 on Building Permit Count

James Green, Granite City contractor, was fined $300 last week by Magistrate Merlin Hiscott in Edwardsville after pleading guilty to a charge of erecting a six four-family apartment units in Arlington Heights without obtaining a county building permit.

He was fined an additional $300 on another permit charge, but that fine was stayed provided that Green correct a number of structural deficiencies in the units.

The alleged deficiencies included a lack of fire stoppage, failure to build sheathing into the upper structures and erecting one unit too close to two others.

One of the six units is erected diagonally to two others and too close to them, considered to be a possible fire hazard by inspectors from the office of Jack Clifford, Madison county building official who filed the complaints.

Also named in the charges was Fairway Estates Inc., which owns the land on which the apartments are located. Officers of the firm include Green, George Filcoff Jr., Melvin T. Pashea and William J. Dubay of Granite City and Mike Sasyk of Madison.

Contest Hopefuls Start Hoops Awhirl at Centers

The "Hula hoop" craze that swept across the country several years ago is having a revival in Granite City as several hundred boys and girls began practicing today for the "City Hoop" ground hoop championship, slated for next Monday at 7:30 p.m., in the Wilson Park rink pavilion.

Competing are children, five to 13 years, who attend the summer recreational program, sponsored by the Granite City park district, at 11 playground sites.

Mrs. Helen Bjorkman, summer recreation supervisor, said today that finals at the individual playgrounds will be held Thursday, with the championship rounds to be conducted at the Wilson Park pavilion Monday. The public is invited to view the latter event which will spotlight boys and girls from various age categories representing each playground center.

Performing to the beat of rock 'n' roll music, and adding their own accompaniment with the "whoop whoop" sound of their Hula Hoops, youngsters will be judged on their ability to perform such maneuvers as "hip n' flip," "the stork," "kill the buzzard" and "wrap the mummy."

An opportunity to add more points toward contest honors is provided in the "free exercise" routine in which the children come up with their own individual gyrations, Mrs. Bjorkman explained.

Last year more than 320 parks and recreation departments joined in the Hula Hoop program, with well over 165,000 youngsters taking part.

At stake is the National Hula Hoop Championship, won in 1968 by 11-year-old Marjorie Ulton Jones of Torrance, Calif. Her victory was worth $100 in U.S. Savings Bonds, plus an all-expenses paid trip to New York where she participated in the traditional Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade.

Local winners will compete at state and regional runoff matches prior to the national championships, Mrs. Bjorkman said. The national event will again be held at Universal City Studios.

Ideal Qualifications for Delegates To State Constitutional Convention

(League of Women Voters of Illinois)

This Friday, July 11, is the deadline for candidates for delegate to the Illinois constitutional convention to file petitions. Filing began today.

The enabling legislation contains a detailed timetable based on three key dates: Sept. 23, district primary elections; Nov. 18, general election of delegates; Dec. 8, convening of the convention. Filing begins today.

The enabling legislation contains a detailed timetable based on three key dates: Sept. 23, district primary elections; Nov. 18, general election of delegates; Dec. 8, convening of the convention. Filing begins today.

Both the Constitution Study Commission and the legislature have been concerned that the convention not be permitted to run indefinitely. Historians feel that the great length of the 1870 constitution contributed to loss of public interest and to the defeat of the new constitution proposed by Con Con.

Since the present 1870 constitution leaves to the convention the decision as to the only way to control the time is through the appropriation of money.

The Illinois General Assembly authorized compensation of $225 a month per delegate for not more than eight months, plus $75 a day for each day in attendance at Con Con sessions or committees for not more than 100 days.

Each delegate will also receive 15 cents a mile for travel to and from convention sites and a postage allotment of $120. Delegates will receive expenses for room and board at the rate established by the General Assembly for its interim commissions and committees.

Two convention officials, the president and vice-president, will receive extra money in recognition of their responsibilities and will be paid for a maximum of nine months to reflect the probable need to have clean-up work.

The constitution leaves to the officials courts rule that elected officials may serve, they will not receive compensation other than expenses as long as they retain their elected or appointed offices.

The Fourth of July was celebrated as a mammoth "peace and victory" picnic at Moellenbrock's Grove, Homestead Lake, sponsored by the Moose lodge and Mooseheart league. Dancing and athletic events were enjoyed.

Local residents wear on air of dejection and thirsty souls wander from place to place vainly seeking their old friend, "John Barleycorn," who was laid to rest starting this month.

Tax Differential Could Lead to Climate in Which State Scares Away New, Present Firms

Illinois individuals would rather pay a 2 1/2% state income tax than a higher rate. Businessmen would like to see less than a 4% tax on their corporate income. Their differing views are understandable, but a case persuasive to both parties can be made for a uniform tax—whether at 2 1/2%, 3% or 4%.

The initial argument, and it may still prove to be valid, was that the present state constitution apparently rules out a non-uniform income tax and permits one with equal rates. If the Illinois Supreme Court so rules on the Aug. 1 effective date, legislators will have to go "back to the drawing boards," probably then adopting a 3 1/2% tax to finance projected spending.

A second point is that the state can discourage new economic growth by leaning more heavily on businesses than families. Once this is established, the existence of the differential could grow much greater.

Without the self-regulating factor of an equal tax, without the legislature-electing public feeling the direct effect of legislative revenue decisions, there would be a strong temptation to "go easy" on the bulk of the voters and "sock it" to minority groups like small businessmen and corporation directors and stockholders, securing future tax increases largely from them.

Where this would harm the average citizen is that it could scare away new and existing employers to other states, taking with them jobs, wages and taxable industrial activity.

There are other potential problems in the new Illinois tax. No provision has been made for consolidated returns, although the income of affiliated corporations does not always give an accurate picture when each related firm is treated separately. Rules on allocation and apportionment of income are such that major national concerns will not be encouraged to base their operations in this state, nor will firms of moderate size find it as attractive to locate in Illinois.

In voting to waive personal property taxes on one household of furniture and one auto for each family, the General Assembly eliminated all or most of such individual taxes but left

Median Education Rising; Family Size Up, Average Age Down Here

(Granite City Long-Range Plan)

Median school years completed is one indicator of the quality and training of a community's labor force.

A low median education may reflect a labor force which has a high proportion of unskilled and semi-skilled workers.

Chronic or periodic unemployment may plague portions of the labor force as a result of their lack of education, the educational level of the workforce is rising more rapidly than in the past.

Median school years completed rose seven-tenths of a year between 1950 and 1960 were them in effect for manufacturers, which pay substantial personal taxes on their machinery. The governor must decide whether to approve the waiver. Total scrapping of the personal property tax is to be on a "blue ballot" in November 1970, but there may be little or no incentive for voters to eliminate it if it is no longer being imposed on them.

The corporate franchise tax was left intact but the minimum may be cut as of July 1970 as an informal part of the 1969 tax compromise. The real estate tax and capital stock tax remain in effect.

If Illinois business is to be able to compete and if the state wishes to make clear that it favors new economic growth, legislators should to review their handiwork this fall to make sure they are not "killing the goose that lays golden eggs."

New Senator Was Able to Steer to Passage Many Bills Helpful to This District, State

The effective role by Senator Merrill Owen during the last two months of the 1969 legislative session bears out the earlier belief that it was well worthwhile to fill the vacant senatorial seat for the last year and a half of the four-year term.

Although the timing of the special primary election prevented his regular session, the final third included most of the key decisions.

He not only gave voice to local needs, steering many of the remedial bills to committee and senate passage, but also helped perfect legislation of statewide impact.

With a special session likely in October 1969 and a budget session following in April 1970, his record will grow in dimension. Even though the Democrats top vote-getter among candidates in the special election, Leland Kennedy, has thrown his hat into the senatorial ring, we would have to rate the November 1970 race as a "toss up" at this time due to the new senator's fast and successful start.

Able People Should Step Forward to Serve at Constitutional Convention

Whether a new Illinois constitution will be worthy of support by voters will depend directly on how well it is written by convention delegates. For this reason, the July 7-11 filing period and the Sept. 23 and Nov. 18 delegate elections are of crucial importance.

We hope that candidates able and willing to carry out the complex task make themselves available. A new state constitution could do much to improve life in this region, and it would be a shame if hopes are dashed by preparation of an unsound, inept replacement document.

Ban Disruption of Higher Education

"Arson is a form of murder," a board member noted last week as the Illinois Board of Higher Education gave its backing to new legislation banning interference with the normal functions of colleges and universities. It provides fines and sentences for damage to property, injury to persons and disruption of classes. We agree with the board that the bill merits signing by the governor.

Median Education Rising; Family Size Up, Average Age Down Here

As follows: Granite City, 8.7 to 9.4; Madison, 8.4 to 8.7; Venice, 8.0 to 8.4; Alton, 9.1 to 10.2; Collinsville, 8.6 to 9.8; Edwardsville, 10.2 to 11.2; Wood River, 9.5 to 10.2; Madison County, 8.7 to 9.4; Metropolitan area, 8.8 to 9.6; Illinois, 9.3 to 10.5; and U. S., 9.3 to 10.8.

Population per household in Granite City and Madison county during the same decade while declining in surrounding counties, the state and the nation.

The slight increase in family size can be attributed to the general change in the city's age structure; the median Granite City age dropped from 29.3 to 28.0 between 1950 and 1960.

The 1950 and then 1960 average household population in Granite City dropped from 3.29 to 3.28; Granite City, 3.29 to 3.28; Alton, 3.17 to 3.07; Collinsville, 3.14 to 3.10; Wood River, 3.24 to 3.15; county, 3.27 to 3.23; Illinois, 3.23 to 3.18; and U. S., 3.42 to 3.29.

Household size in 1960 was 3.28 in Madison, 3.32 in Venice and 3.07 in Edwardsville. Their figures ten years earlier were 3.32, 3.35 and 3.07.

of the Pueblo, the intelligence ship captured by North Korea. The singing Lennon sisters and the newly-crowned professional basketball champions, the Boston Celtics, also were given extensive coverage.

The latest dispatch from Specialist-four Ronald Minnie, staff correspondent based at Rang Rang, Vietnam, was that "American GIs have uncovered three tons of weapons and ammunition 52 miles north of here. Among them were 91 machine guns, 35 of them still in their packing grease."

A report from New York disclosed that the Overseas Press Club of America was adding to its memorial wall the name of another PS&S correspondent, Specialist-five Paul D. Savanuck, 23. A member of its Vietnam bureau only two weeks, he was killed April 18 during a night attack against a U. S. armored unit enroute to a demilitarized zone.

Coverage of the Vietnam war escalated with the escalation of the fighting, and the Pacific Stars and Stripes found it necessary to strain every resource to keep pace. In almost every phase, its job has doubled in a matter of weeks.

PUBLIC COULD REMEDY PRICE, INTEREST SPIRAL

To the Editor:

Since 1965, prices have increased annually as much as 5%. The last figure this spring was 7%.

At the current rate, within ten years prices will have doubled. It is a certainty that incomes will not have increased commensurately.

Banks have increased prime interest to 8 1/2%, furthering the spiraling inflationary trend.

To increase their profits, they are taking advantage of our nation's needs for housing, particularly for low and middle-income groups, and schools, etc., without consideration for the people or the exorbitant interest rates levied on the overall economy of the country.

Inflation is like an insidious disease—symptoms so imperceptible we ignore them until the illness is incurable. The time to begin finding a cure is now.

The administration does not appear to equate this problem with others that beset our nation. It is up to the buying public to stabilize prices and reverse a trend that must eventually lead to a shattered economy.

If purchases were restricted in every area possible and if we refused to make long-term loans on houses, autos, home improvement, etc., manufacturers would be forced to hold or even lower prices to meet the lessened demand. The big money lenders would have to revise their interest rates to more realistic levels.

This is certainly not a cut-and-dried question nor a total answer to inflation. But it might be a start in the right direction.

LIFE HARD FOR AGED; SHORTAGE OF DOCTORS

To the Editor:

I want the public and city of Granite City to know how doctors have treated me. I am almost 84 years old and have lived here since 1934. I have paid taxes, and they grow bigger all the time.

My place is running down and I have no money to fix it. I can't rent the upstairs apartment because the city said I had to have all new wiring just because it had been empty over six months. There are no stores close, and we have no car.

My doctor got mad at me when I was in the hospital last fall for tests. I thought maybe I had cancer again, I have had it twice. The tests were very painful to go through, and all he said was I had another ailment which he specified.

He let me go home with a terrible cold and sinus. So I had to go to another doctor, who said to go back to the first.

Pacific Stars and Stripes Joins Their Hometown Newspapers in Keeping American Servicemen in Combat, Support Areas Well Informed

By WILLIAM F. WINTER

In addition to the hometown newspapers they receive, Americans serving in the Far East are able to get a regular view of the U. S. and world by reading the Pacific Stars and Stripes, which is published in Tokyo, Japan, as a joint operation of our military, air and naval forces.

Members of the International Conference of Weekly Newspaper Editors toured the newspaper offices and shop in May, jointly interviewed Army Col. Peter F. Swears Jr., editor-in-chief, and conferred individually with other executives of the paper at a luncheon.

The Pacific Command describes it as "information, morale and a get a regular view of the U. S. and world by reading the Pacific Stars and Stripes, which is published in Tokyo, Japan, as a joint operation of our military, air and naval forces."

The 24-page tabloid-size product contains world and military news. It has staff-written dispatches from Vietnam and elsewhere as well as wire service articles, extensive sports news and a variety of columnists and analysts.

Funds are administered by a council composed of representatives of the three service commands in the Pacific Command. Basic policy and procedures are spelled out in a tri-service regulation.

Much praise is taken in the fact that a copy with up-to-the-minute news is in the hands of nearly every serviceman in his bedroom, barracks or bunker, every day despite some awesome obstacles of time and distance.

It was born barely in time to boost that it had reported a war. The first edition rolled off the presses of the Honolulu Advertiser on May 14, 1945, while the last campaign was in progress on Okinawa. There were the nuclear destruction of two cities, the taking of Okunawa and the surrender of Japan.

The newspaper now observes Oct. 3, 1945, as its birthdate. It was first printed in Tokyo (at day, on the presses of the Asahi Shimbun after being written, edited and set into type a few blocks away in the Nippon Times building).

This operation continued during the occupation and through the Korean war, in which one of its correspondents, Cpl. Ernest Peeler, lost his life covering a story about the early fighting.

The Korea edition was born there, first being printed in Seoul at the time of the move north, the edition was printed on an auxiliary press in Seoul.

These Korea editions, bound and preserved with others in the newspaper's library in Tokyo, gave a day-by-day account of the 1950-53 struggle from the view of the men who fought it. It was a makeshift operation in the Tokyo staff moved into a long wooden structure at Hardy barracks, ending the era when meeting a deadline often depended on how fast a motorcycle could speed long blocks from one building to another.

Sixteen pages since 1961, expanded to 24 in 1955, with 56 on Sundays. The press in Seoul was too small to make the same change, and the plant there closed the following year, concentrating all the publishing at Tokyo.

The paper was free to troops in Korea until 1957. More than 137,000 copies of the present circulation of 250,000 are free copies for men in combat zones.

The 80,000-square-foot building now in use was erected in 1962. A high-speed letterpress replaced the previous press, and two five-unit web offset presses currently are being added. The engraving department has all the latest techniques and equipment.

The newspaper is published without advertising and almost without subsidy. A Boeing 72 plane is kept busy nearly 24 hours a day distributing copies to Japan, Korea, Taiwan, the Philippines, Guam, Midway, Wake Island and Okinawa, a circulation area of almost 2,500,000 square miles.

The staff is composed of soldiers, sailors, Marines and American and Japanese civilians. The only respite from the four-editions-a-day schedule is New Year's national holiday in Japan.

The press run is divided so that each area reads local as well as world news. The local news pages are prepared with the help of military information offices and seven Pacific Stars and Stripes bureaus.

On the day the newspaper was toured by weekly editors, May 6, it featured detailed articles on the Secretary of Defense's report out punishment of the crew of the Pueblo, the intelligence ship captured by North Korea.

The singing Lennon sisters and the newly-crowned professional basketball champions, the Boston Celtics, also were given extensive coverage.

The latest dispatch from Specialist-four Ronald Minnie, staff correspondent based at Rang Rang, Vietnam, was that "American GIs have uncovered three tons of weapons and ammunition 52 miles north of here. Among them were 91 machine guns, 35 of them still in their packing grease."

nel, but the armed services in Vietnam provide additional men for the Saigon bureau. The Eighth U. S. Army assists in staffing the Korea bureau.

Wilson Park Office Isolated Today

An estimated eight to ten inches of rain flooded buildings adjacent to the Granite City park district's main office in Wilson Park, a maintenance employee said shortly before noon today.

He noted the park headquarters "looks like Charlotte" with flood waters stretching for distances up to 200 feet on all sides. The man commented that it had been necessary for him to remove his footwear and wade to reach the building, adding that none of the office staff had reported for work due to conditions.

Rozycki Tops Slow Pitch Meet Foes

Action plenty took place on the Worthen Park softball diamond Saturday and Sunday as local men's teams competed in the annual GC park holiday slow-pitch tournament, won by Rozycki 5-1 over Holiday Mobile Homes.

Ernest Brown, superintendent of the levee district in Madison county, said "This is the most water we've ever had in such a short time. We pump water out of the spillway just east of Route 111."

The levee board level constituted a serious threat to drainage out of Nameoki ditch which carries a heavy flow from the rain last night and early this morning at the levee district's North Pumping Station on the riverfront at East St.

The downpour also added to troubles at Dobrey Slough along Angels drive where pumping operations were resumed last Thursday on orders of William "Mike" Ebersold, Madison county member of the levee district board. Ebersold said he hired a contracting firm to pump the water out.

The water level of the slough had engulfed the culverts under Angels drive last Thursday, and the rain last night and early this morning sent the water level even higher.

"These people are in real trouble," Ebersold said. "It appears the water may wash out one of the levees near the water," he said.

Basements are filling with water from pumping operations which probably will be required for several weeks after the rains stop, Ebersold said.

Both Madison and Venice kept crews of firemen on duty throughout the night, responding to calls from residents whose basements were filling with water. Firemen were kept busy shutting off power and gas in these homes.

Venice police reported that a fireman called to 1317 Oriole street found eight feet of water in the basement.

Other Venice areas reporting particularly high water were 608 Washington street, 728 Brown street, 1029 Market street, 1018 Second street, 1017 Douglas street, 143 Morehead street, 710 Second street, 1101 Calhoun street and 1310 Oriole street.

Madison police said they were called to a home in the 2000 block of Sken street where water in the basement had recently undergone an operation and could not be moved. She asked a woman who had been shut off and she remained in her home, although the surrounding area was flooded.

Overhead Whiteway lights on Madison avenue south of Sixth street to Venice were knocked out for a brief period by the storm. Lights on McKinley bridge also were knocked out for a two-minute period at 10:35 p.m.

Long Lake 'Full'

Pontoon boats were covered with water in the vicinity of Lake drive this morning and the flooded area widened as rain continued to fall.

Trucks were getting through but many motorists refused to take a chance on Long Lake being bank full and still rising at 10 a.m.

Harper chief of the Long Lake fire department, said residents of the Pontoon Beach area feared a possible loss of the high level of Horseshoe Lake which, he said, causes Long Lake to back up.

Much of the Breckenridge lane-center lane-Garden lane area of Nameoki township was badly flooded and Nameoki township highway workers barricaded roads over the drainage ditch north of Arlington Heights as water began running over the bridge about 9 a.m.

Horseshoe Lake Problem

The heavy rain created a critical situation in the Horseshoe Lake area where extra levee district workers were called in.

HOLIDAY GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grisham, 1460 Clark avenue, had guests over the weekend holidays the former's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Grisham, and children Alicia and Keith of Pholo, Calif.

Wente Feature Win His 56th in Midget Races, Best in U.S.

Bob Wente of St. Louis won the feature event at the Tri-City Speedway U. S. Auto Club midget racing competition Sunday night.

Wente now has 56 total career wins, giving him the all-time annual record in feature even competition.

The feature race was marked by three separate accidents, eliminating five cars from the 18-car field. Two other cars left the race because of engine problems.

There were no serious injuries despite one of the midget autos jumping a rail into the center area. This was the first occasion of midget rail hopping at the local speedway in over three years.

An autopsy was conducted and an inquest will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at the cause of death, Robert Thomas, Madison county coroner, said today.

Mrs. Taylor was a member of the Dewey Avenue United Methodist Church. Born in Granite City, Mrs. Taylor and her family had lived in California for some time, as her husband is a career man in the U.S. Marines. They returned to this area in February to make their home here while Sgt. Taylor was serving in Okinawa. He is a gunnery sergeant with the Marines, and has been overseas since March.

Surviving are her husband, Sgt. Altha Taylor; three children, all at home, Robin Elizabeth, 11, Cathryn Rene, 10, and William Scott, eight; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William (Cletta) Morgan of Granite City; one brother, Larry Morgan of Mitchell; a sister, Mrs. Linda E. Holik of Granite City, a grandmother, Mrs. Bertha Hale of Granite City.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Legionnaires Overcome Altan 2-1 in Overtime

American Legion Post 113, after the rain, regulation innings had gone scoreless, won in the extra inning 2-1 at Alton Post 128 Saturday.

Jeff Byrnes, starting hurler for GC, developed arm trouble and Deacon Simpson took the mound in the third inning.

Simpson singled home the first run of the game after Jerry Monahan had walked and advanced on a sacrifice. On a wild pitch and a single by Mike McGovern, Simpson crossed the plate with the second run.

Alton challenged with one run in the bottom of the eighth. Post 113 will host an exhibition game with Anheuser-Busch at Wilson Park Wednesday, at 6 p.m.

Budget for SIU, SIU-SW Trimmed by State

A $92,062,548 budget approved by the state legislature for Southern Illinois University during the next fiscal year was greeted with a mixture of satisfaction and disappointment by SIU officials last week.

The amount budgeted for operations, $78,569,300 — was generally conceded to be satisfactory, but officials termed the allocations for new buildings and improvements considerably below adequate provision for pressing needs.

"Faced with the inevitability of cutbacks," President Delyte W. Morris said, "my feeling is that the reductions were applied by the legislature in the least hurtful manner, and for this we are grateful."

President Morris pointed out, also, that because the SIU enrollment was underestimated in the new budget, according to the Higher Board formula, more money than they would have received in the predictions could have been exact.

SIU at Carbondale had requested a new major project, of which only three were recommended to the legislature by the Higher Board of Education. Of these, only the Center for the Advanced Study of Physical Sciences and a power plant at the Vocational-Technical Institute, Carbondale, made it through the General Assembly.

Costs at SIU-SW

Two of three Board recommendations for buildings at the Southern campus where five had been requested originally, were included in the final capital improvements bill sent to the governor.

These all were in the form of construction authorization through the Illinois Building Authority. That agency issues bonds to construct state buildings and the various agencies then pay rent to the IBA.

SIU requests for improvements, land acquisition, planning and other items from tax appropriations were slashed from $33,212,500 to $5,107,500. Requested reappropriations totaling $9,151,000 went through unchanged.

"We are disappointed that the capital budget was reduced," said Carlin Kato, executive director Robert MacVicar, "but we recognize the limits of the state's resources."

Another item in the SIU budget bill proceeded in orderly fashion on the Advanced Physical Sciences building and with the other two buildings not approved for this year. The development of the campus won't be seriously delayed.

Southwestern campus Chancellor John Rendleman said the capital cut would "work some hardships on the plans for expanded educational opportunity, but the campus will continue to grow."

He said provisions for an expanded faculty to meet expected enrollment increases at Southwestern campus are covered in the approved budget. Rendleman projected a fall enrollment of 12,000 at SIU-SW, which would be an increase of 1700 over last year.

An emergency bill requesting a $4,988,000 IBA authorization for a building to replace Old Main, which was destroyed by fire June 8, has gone to the governor. It is in addition to the regular building budget. The bill also requests appropriations of $1,148,762 to cover the first year of IBA service costs, the razing of Old Main, and acquisition of temporary classroom space.

Another item in the SIU budget bill appropriates $114,748 for fire protection at the two campuses. Most of this is to be used in the form of subsidies to local fire departments for expanded coverage to the campuses.

Students will live in campus dormitories under the supervision of six counselors selected from teachers in the state. They will study under specialists in music education and will participate in a program of social, cultural and recreational activities.

Military Pay Raises To Mean DIC Increase

An increase in the base pay of members of the Armed Forces which became effective July 1 will mean an automatic increase in dependency and indemnity compensation (DIC) payments to about 160,000 recipients of monthly DIC checks, the Veterans Administration announced today.

DIC payments are authorized for widows, unmarried children under 18 (older if attending school or helpless), and certain parents of veterans who died as the result of military service. Payments equal $120 a month, plus 12% of the monthly basic pay currently paid for rank and service the same as that of the deceased veteran. In addition, payment may be increased where there are two or more children, up to $38 for each child in excess of one, depending upon amounts to which the family may be entitled under Social Security and Railroad Retirement provisions.

Beneficiaries need not apply to VA for the increased monthly payments since the new rates already have been computed by the Veterans Administration and will be reflected in checks which will be sent out at the end of July.

Depot to Hold Auction Of Heavy Equipment

The Granite City Army Depot will hold an auction of construction, vehicular and industrial equipment, at the depot on Thursday.

On hand are 223 items which cost more than $1,050,000. Registration of bidders will begin at 8 a.m., and the sale will start at 10 a.m.

Items to be sold include a 60-ton crawler crane, crawler tractors, forklifts, electric motors, automobiles, trucks, trailers, an ambulance, a fire truck and a LARC (Lighter Amphibious Resupply Cargo).

The government's auctioneers are Fred Hinkley and George Beam, who have sold more than a half billion dollars worth of supplies, with as much as $13 million at a single sale.

Traffic Deaths Down 60% So Far this Year

The ratio of traffic fatalities in the Quad-City area during the first six months of this year fell sharply below that of the same period a year ago, while the number of traffic accidents showed a marked increase over those of the 1968 period, a study of traffic accident statistics showed today.

Three Quad-City area traffic deaths occurred last month, bringing to nine the total fatalities thus far this year, including four in January, one in February and one in March, in addition to the June deaths. The traffic fatalities last month ended a Quad-City record of more than 60 days without a traffic fatality during April and May.

The June deaths were a reduction of six below the total of nine traffic fatalities that occurred in June 1968, while the six-month total of nine for this year is a drop of 14 below the six-month total of 23 traffic deaths reported to Quad-City authorities at the same time last year. This is a reduction of 60% in traffic fatalities for the first half of this year.

Accidents On Increase

While traffic deaths fell off sharply in the area's accident picture, the number of accidents jumped to 1340 for the first half of this year from 1172 for the same period a year ago. A total of 228 accidents was reported to Quad-City area authorities during June, an increase of 28 over the 202 reported in June 1968.

Coincidentally, the 122 injury cases growing out of traffic accidents in June increased the six-month total of accident injuries this year to 685, one more than the number recorded for the same period last year.

The largest number of accidents reported in any single month so far this year occurred in April when 241 accidents were reported to Quad-City authorities.

A total of 123 personal injuries were reported in those accidents.
